| The /dʒ/ sound spelt as ge and dge at the end of words, and sometimes spelt as g elsewhere in words before e, i and y | The letter j is never used for the /dʒ/ sound at the end of English words.  At the end of a word, the /dʒ/ sound is spelt –dge straight after the /æ/, /ɛ/, /ɪ/, /p/, /n/ and /ʊ/ sounds (sometimes called 'short' vowels).  After all other sounds, whether vowels or consonants, the /dʒ/ sound is spelt as –ge at the end of a word.  In other positions in words, the /dʒ/ sound is often (but not always) spelt as g before e, i, and y. The /dʒ/ sound is always spelt as j before a, o and u. | badge, edge, bridge, dodge, fudge age, huge, change, charge, bulge, village gem, giant, magic, giraffe, energy jacket, jar, jog, join, adjust |
| The /s/ sound spelt c before e, i and y                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | race, ice, cell, city, fancy                                                                                                                  |
| The /n/ sound spelt kn and (less often) gn at the beginning of words                                                  | The 'k' and 'g' at the beginning of these words was sounded hundreds of years ago.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | knock, know, knee,gnat, gnaw                                                                                                              |
| The /r/ sound spelt wr at the beginning of words                                                                      | This spelling probably also reflects an old pronunciation.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | write, written, wrote,wrong, wrap                                                                                                         |
