Hook: A machine has turned up in the classroom along with a letter from a little boy called Elliott asking for help, as he doesn't know what the machine does.

Integrated Curriculum:

Pupils will explore high quality picture books and learn how to use drawings as part of their thinking for writing. They will produce illustrations for their own picture book as well as inventing machines that help make their school or home life easier. Ideas booklets will be used to capture their imagination through drawings and words.
